

Shout about your success!

You are officially amazing and need to shout about the fantastic reading and raising your school is doing - sharing your success, encouraging support and inspiring others.

Get into the papers!

Your local press would love to hear about your achievement. Use our draft press release as a template (available as a download on our website).

Share with us!

Write a blog about your sponsored read (pupils, teachers or parents) and we will send you a fabulous book bundle!
How did the sponsored read go?
What was the best thing about it?
How has it changed attitudes to reading?
What was the biggest motivator?
Did you do any additional activities?

We'd also love to see any photos of your sponsored read in action, showing children reading, related activities and projects.

Email your blogs, along with any photos, to jo@readforgood.org

Share with your school community

Promote, encourage and celebrate your achievements through your own school communication networks.

Share your success with the whole school, governors, and other schools you work with - your thank you pack includes a school certificate, a testimonial, your Scholastic book voucher and a book token to reward your most deserving reader.

Go viral!

Tell us how much you raised, share photos and stories and we'll share your success with all our followers.
