Creating a buzz about your Readathon®

Your free kit contains everything you need to make running Readathon® really easy! Here's even more ideas to create a buzz about reading...

- Check out our resources, films and downloads at: readforgood.org
- Find reading inspiration to share with your pupils at: readforgood.org/books-we-love
- Set a class or school challenge using our free online reading tracker tool Track My Read® – readforgood.org/track-my-read
- Tie it in with a visiting book fair or national event (e.g. World Book Day)
- Run a book club
- Choose a time for everyone to Drop Everything And Read
- Launch a competition (most minutes read, most improved reader, best 'extreme reading' photo, best book review, best book cover design etc)
- Buddy up with pupils from a different class, key stage or tutor group and read together
- Set up a peer-to-peer book reviews and recommendations display in your classroom or the library
- Run a raffle with books or book tokens as prizes
- Hold a book character dressing up day
- Run a book, comic or magazine swap
- Hold a bedtime stories session (wear pyjamas and read or listen to a story)
- Have a reading day (or week!) with a selection of fun reading activities
- Invite authors, illustrators and storytellers to inspire and entertain
- Ask parents and carers to share their love of books by reading with pupils
- Read it before you see it! Challenge pupils to read or listen to a particular book then screen the film version 'cinema-style'
- Shout about your success through your local press, your school website and across social media

For lots more reading resources visit readforgood.org/downloads-and-extras

Registered charity 1130309 and SC041036 (Scotland). ©Read for Good 2024.
Read for Good®, Readathon® and Track My Read® are registered trademarks.

Registered with FUNDRAISING REGULATOR